Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 15 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rather cloudy. Showers in west. Milder and less windy.

Today:
Rather cloudy with scattered showers, mostly over western Scotland. Brighter conditions in the northeast. Milder conditions allowing a gradual thaw of lying snow. Lighter southerly winds.

Tonight:
Mainly dry at first then a band of rain will sweep northeastwards across all parts during the night. Rain accompanied by strong to gale force southerly winds, severe over Hebrides.

Tuesday:
A windy, showery day across northwest Scotland. It will be drier, brighter and less windy in the south and east. Drier, clearer weather extending to northwest later with winds easing.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
An unsettled few days with bands of wet and windy weather crossing the country. Generally mild but Thursday will be a colder day.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.